PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

The Parish Community of Saint Ann's in Neponset is in the tradition of the Roman Catholic Church. We believe that this tradition is a sacred gift given to us in Baptism and the inheritance bequeathed to us by those who have gone before us through the ages. With our Archbishop and Pastor we are united with our Holy Father, Pope Benedict XVI, in our commitment to- and we are indeed shaped as a people by- the Eucharistic Assembly especially on the Lord's Day. We are strongly committed to maintaining our parish school and religious education programs. We are equally committed to the spiritual needs of those who are grieving or who are ill or because of advanced age are unable to celebrate the Sunday Eucharist. Through the Liturgy we hope to inspire and motivate our parish family to respond to the physical needs of the less fortunate of Christ's brothers and sisters. We are a parish that is deeply committed to the family.

We are a parish with a long and rich history and take great pride in celebrating our Catholic traditions.

From Emotionalism to Evangelization

Luke 24:35-48 Excerpt taken from the Writings of Fr. Peter Cameron, OP – Dominican Teacher and Editor of Magnificat©

The gospel today presents the disciples disturbed by many mixed emotions at the appearance of the risen Jesus: from suffering panic and fright to being “incredulous” for sheer joy and wonder. Their flustered state serves to emphasize just how incapable human beings are of responding even to the joy of Easter without the grace of Jesus Christ.

But the resurrected Christ generously gives this grace, especially in the gift of peace which subdues our inner turbulence as it restores and perfects all the rich potentialities that a relationship with the Lord promises. The bestowal of peace is a pattern of divine charity that we reenact every time we gather for Mass: “The Lord be with you”... “And also with you.”

Jesus tempers the disciples’ agitation by showing them his wounds, by inviting them to touch him, and by partaking of food in their presence — that is to say, by drawing them once again into the saving actions of the passion. Because the disciples are thereby truly reunited with the risen Jesus, the Lord then reveals to them the purpose of his visit. Namely, the resurrected Christ stands among his disciples to convince them that there is nothing “ghostly” about Christianity. It is a faith of “flesh and bones” like the risen Jesus himself. And it relies on the dedication of the body and soul of every disciple for its thriving.

That is why Jesus instructs his disciples to recall “my words that I spoke to you while I was still with you.” Faith flourishes only through active and applies memorializing. We see the fulfillment of God’s promise in the Scriptures in our own lives only to the extent that we open our minds to Jesus and welcome the understanding that the Spirit gives.

At the same time, Christ’s disciples are called to preach penance for the remission of sins to all the nations in Jesus’ Name. The peace of Easter cannot coexist alongside the tyranny of sin which seeks to sabotage God’s peace. The grace of penance puts all disciples in touch with Jesus as it unites them to this saving words and to the healing food of the Eucharist.

Christ commissions his disciples because they “are witnesses of these things.” A witness is one who speaks from first-hand knowledge. And we who are drawn into these same transforming graces of Easter also become true witnesses of the Resurrection. Our personal struggles with panic, fright, joy, and wonder are divine invitations to place our confidence a new in the peace of Jesus by energetically bringing that peace to others who are alone in their interior turmoil and who remain in need of hearing the Name of Jesus.

Notice that Jesus appears in the life of the disciples “while they were still speaking” about what happened on the road to Emmaus and how they had come to know Jesus in the breaking of the bread. The more we recall to others the words Jesus has spoken to us, the more all will know the Christ is still with us.
